

Brickyard Operators Deny Conference, Hold Weekly Meeting Today

Organizer Quinn's Announcement of Strike Settlement Conference Denied by Manufacturers—Quinn Absent.

STRIKE STATIONARY
Guards and Pickets Still at Various Yards—Work Continues in Several Yards.

While brickyard union officials talked of negotiations today toward a settlement of the strike which had tied up all but two of the Kingston district brick-yards for the past week, yard owners continued to state that they had no knowledge of any meeting or negotiations with union officials.

Efforts to get in touch with Joseph Quinn, general organizer and manager of Brick-Handlers' Local, No. 1467, which takes in all of the organized brick-yard workers in the Hudson valley, were not successful this morning.

The weekly meeting of the Brick Association was being held today at the Governor Clinton Hotel but it was stated that the meeting was a routine one and had nothing to do with the strike, although it was said the strike situation would probably be among other industry topics which would come up for discussion. Each week the industry holds a meeting at which time industry problems and matters are discussed.

Knows of No Effort

One manufacturer stated that so far as he knew there had been no effort made to bring the manufacturers and union officials together about the conference board to discuss any compromise or adjustment of the strike.

Sheriff Molynesux still had his force of deputies along the river front from Kingston to Glascow and in the city police guards were posted along North street in the vicinity of the yards. No trouble or disorder was reported and apparently the pickets who were on the job were obeying Mr. Quinn's orders for an orderly stoppage of work and "peaceful picketing."

Any misunderstanding as to who had authority to conduct the strike and open negotiations seems to have been wiped out and Mr. Quinn appears to be the official representative in the field. Mr. Quinn made a trip to headquarters in New York and after a conference with A. F. L. headquarters returned to the Hudson valley with credentials delegating him as sole agent for I. L. A. organization along the brick front.

Quinn Is Ready

Mr. Quinn has declared himself ready and willing at any time to open negotiations with the yard owners and get together and attempt to adjust matters. He told a Freeman reporter that he would be willing to arbitrate on the proposed contract, which demands 80 per cent increase in pay and better working conditions, and said he would be glad to arrange for the appointment of one member of the committee by the striking union men, one by the owners of the yards and a third man to be agreed upon by both sides. Before that committee he said he would place his demand and the owners could submit their ideas and perhaps some form of settlement to both sides could be worked out.

So far as operations on the yards were concerned today there seemed no change. The Hutton and Washburn yards were operating at capacity and some work was being carried on at various other yards. Down the river the yards remained idle and up the river there were some operations being carried on with union officials claiming a partial tie-up.

A threat to tie up loaded barges has been made. At some yards closed by strikers work of loading barges has been resumed. Union officials claim that if necessary union boatmen will refuse to move the barges after they are loaded for the New York market.

STATE SEEKS HAVEN FOR HAY FEVERISH FOLK

Albany, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—New York's health department pressed forward today in its efforts to find a haven for hay fever sufferers within the empire state.

Establishment of three more stations in various sections of the state to determine the actual quantity of hay fever producing pollen in the atmosphere is planned, beginning about August 10, Senior Sanitary Engineer C. C. Agar said.

They will be at McKeever, Herkimer county; Blue Mountain Lake, Hamilton county, and at Fire Island State Park, Suffolk county.

An investigation begun two years ago revealed that the central Adirondack section is relatively free from ragweed.

There are also some indications that Fire Island may be free from the weed and the presence of hay fever pollen in the atmosphere," Agar asserted.

ROOSEVELT: "COST NOTHING EXTRA TO HUNT EARHART"

Washington, July 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt told reporters yesterday the navy spent no extra money hunting Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, in the South Pacific.

He said the cost of operating ships and airplanes went on, no matter what duty was assigned them.

The Earhart search, he added, meant additional training for their crews—training they were required to undergo in maneuvers or otherwise.

Henry Judson, who operates a hotel at Pine Hill, was arrested Tuesday by State Troopers Dunn and Wright and brought to the county jail to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace George C. Smith. Judson was charged by his wife with disorderly conduct.

24 Roller Coaster Riders Hurt as Rear Train Telescopes Wild Cars at Chicago

Chicago, July 21 (AP)—A speeding roller-coaster train hurtled down a steep incline into the rear of an uncontrolled train at Riverside Amusement Park last night, injuring 24 of the terror stricken riders and causing a panic among onlookers.

Witnesses said a train of four cars was near the top of a "hump" when it stalled and started backward. Passengers gasped, then screamed as the train increased its speed and careered part way up another incline.

A second train appeared at the crest as the loose cars rocked back and forth at the bottom of the dip, 10 feet from the ground. As terrified passengers stood on seats, tried to scramble to the front of the train to stall. The two trains carried about 30 persons, many of them teen-aged boys and girls.

"The impact wrecked the rear car of the first train and the front car of the second. The noise brought hundreds of merrymakers to the scene. Hysterical women frantically dashed to the roller-coaster—named "The Pippin"—to determine whether their children were in the wreck.

Only three persons were reported seriously injured. Most of the riders, suffering cuts and bruises, were released after treatment at a nearby hospital.

Police investigated a report by passengers that a cog wheel safety device intended to prevent cars from going backward failed to function.

Park officials gave no explanation for the accident. One version given by witnesses was that a broken wheel caused the first train to stall. The two trains carried about 30 persons, many of them teen-aged boys and girls.

Not So, Say Japanese; Too True, Say Women

Two Americans Peaked Over Sandbags, Slipped on Slick Pavement, Embassy Explains—Street Was Dry, Soldiers Whooped

MISS CAROL LATHROP

She said the assertion that she or her companion had slipped on wet pavement was false.

"It was my impression that the street was perfectly dry," Mrs. Jones said. "The minute we saw the sentries rise up and heard their war whoop we were terrified. Then they charged us."

"Their statement that no violence was used depends entirely on a definition of violence. If being kicked and shoved as we were isn't violence, then I hate to meet the real article."

Before the meeting broke up Barkley made a brief speech in which he promised to support Democratic policies and work for the nation and the party. He was cheered by his colleagues.

The Democrats then filed by and shook hands, and the hand of Senator Harrison, who stood smiling at his side.

Speaking into a radio microphone, Barkley expressed his gratitude for the "honor accorded to me" and expressed confidence "we will all be able to work together."

Friendly Contest

He said the friendly nature of the contest, close though it was, foreshadowed party unity.

Senator Harrison, following Barkley on the radio, said he had just congratulated the victor and said "we are all going to work for harmony in the Democratic party."

Barkley gave out a brief statement saying:

"My policy is to be representative of the administration as well as the Senate in working out to the best of my ability the problems that face the party, the administration and the country."

The last ballot counted decided the contest. Senators said, "Up to the last vote, the two candidates were tied at 37 to 37. When the decision ballot was announced, there was a burst of applause."

Vote by Cards

The American action, indicating the gravity of the situation, came as the Japanese brigade commander, southwest of Peiping threatened "another and more deadly blow" against the Chinese.

Similar steps to protect their nationals were taken by British, French and Italian authorities after reports were received that two American women had been shoved and kicked by Japanese sentries on guard before the embassy in Peiping.

Washington, July 21 (AP)—It would take the working population of the United States ten months, laboring seven days a week, to pay off the public debt with its wages, a research report of the Twentieth Century Fund said today.

With Sundays off, the report added, months would be needed.

The committee that prepared the report—including Donald Richberg, former adviser to President Roosevelt, and James W. Angell, Columbia University economics professor—agreed the present public debt of approximately $25,000,000,000 was not yet a cause for alarm.

The British population, it pointed out, would have to work two and a quarter years to pay off its public debt. It would take the French population even longer to wipe out France's even debts.

Eleanor Roosevelt To Do Promotion Work for Movies

Washington, July 21 (AP)—An agreement with a movie producer led Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt this week into the sixth field of paid employment which she has undertaken for clarity since entering the White House.

The other activities were lecture tours, radio broadcasts, book publication, magazine editing and writing, and newspaper column conducting.

The new assignment is a 200-word article on motherhood, which George Bye, Mrs. Roosevelt's agent, said yesterday she has agreed to write for Sam Goldwyn, film producer.

Goldwyn said the article would be used in promoting a forthcoming movie ("Stella Dallas").

He did not name the sum paid, but said it would go to charity.

Mrs. Roosevelt completed last week a series of 13 weeks' radio interviews on White House life. All checks, for an unannounced sum, were payable to the American Friends Service Committee, a Philadelphia charitable organization.

Her first radio contract ran from December, 1932, until March, 1933. She talked on such things as chaperones and keeping husbands happy. She split the proceeds between the New York State Relief Organization, which received $3,300, and private relief activities.

$36,000 From Radio

In 1931, she reported broadcast receipts of $36,000, paid directly to the Friends committee.

The next year she broadcast 10 programs. It was reported she received $4,000 for each one, and that the money again was paid directly to the Friends' committee.

Mrs. Roosevelt's magazine activities began on the Woman's Democratic news in New York. She and her daughter, Anna, assumed editorial leadership for a new publication, "Babies—Just Babies," in 1932. Soon after entering the White House, she resigned.

She did not stop writing, however. She contributed several articles to popular magazines, and wrote two books, "It's up to the Women" and "A Trip to Washington with Bobby and Betty," a children's story.

Her autobiography began recently in a monthly magazine. In addition, she has been writing a daily syndicated column on Life in the White House.

A veteran campaign speaker, Mrs. Roosevelt in March, 1936, announced a paid lecture tour under charitable auspices. She spoke in four midwestern cities, and since then has made two more tours.

Other activities of the "Working" First Lady have included operation of a furniture, pewter and ironcraft factory at Hyde Park, a non-profit enterprise.

Mrs. Roosevelt is part owner of the Tod Hunter School for Girls in New York. For several years she was assistant principal and part-time instructor. She still makes frequent trips to the school, but draws no salary.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's Pocket Golf Now
Oregon City, Ore.—William Teague's "pocket-in-one" golf shot set a poser for the rule book. Teague's drive of the 14th tee split the fairway but neither he nor other members of the foursome could find the ball.

About this time George Swafford, looking for a ball he had sliced onto the 14th fairway, felt a jar in his pocket and found Teague's ball had landed there. He solved the question of how Teague play his second shot by dropping the pellet to the fairway.

Needed Two-pants Suit
Los Angeles—James Leckie, who admitted stealing his father-in-law's pants to buy whisky, asked the court to "accommodate" him with a 30-day sentence in which to "sober up."

"I'm an accommodating fellow," said Municipal Judge Harold B. Andretti. "I'll give you 90 days which should effect a complete cure."

Obliging Merchant
Omaha, Neb.—Sam Salzman, 40, asked a policeman if he could paint a sign on the sidewalk in front of his business establishment and was told to go ahead.

A day later two other officers walked into Salzman's shop to arrest him for violation of an ordinance. "I'm busy right now, too busy to be arrested," Salzman told them. "Come back this afternoon."

Salzman waited an hour for the officers to show up, and then drove them to the station in his own automobile.

Statesmen groused about those 26,000 Boy Scouts crowding 'em off the streets and out of the capitol, but might have done worse than turn the House and Senate over to them for a few days.

Apple Institute Membership Drive

The campaign for members of the New York and New England Apple Institute was started this week in the Hudson Valley. The campaign in Ulster county is under the chairmanship of Theodor Oxbom of Esopus assisted by J. Westervelt Clarke of Milton, C. Kenneth Taber of Milton, Elmer Fisher of Highland, Arthur Kurtz of Gardiner, Leslie Herring of Ulster Park, Gerow Schoonmaker and DeWitt G. Crowell of Wallkill, F. E. Gaffney of Clinton and Eber Coy of Ardenwood.

It is hoped by the committee that at least $7,500 to $10,000 can be raised in Ulster county to help support the work of the Institute in advertising apples in the New York and New England area.

With the expected large crop, many growers are relying on the work of the Institute to help move it at satisfactory prices, and it is important that the work be started shortly after August 1, in order to be ready for the large crop of Wealthy and McIntosh apples.

E. Lester Mack of Wallkill will supplement the work of the voluntary canvassers with a thorough farm to farm canvass of the whole

Ulster county fruit belt and will be glad to call and explain the work of the Institute to anyone who cares to communicate with him.

At the annual meeting of the Institute in Springfield, Mass.,

last week $50,000 was set as the goal for this year for an advertising budget. The Institute maintains an office at 12 New Market street, in Poughkeepsie.

Yacht Struggled In 60-Mile Gale

Charleston S. C., July 21 (UPI).—Adriel, 46-foot yacht from Rye, N. Y., was in dock today pending repair arrangements by an insurance company after a hazardous experience about 100 miles southeast of here.

Master D. Atwood said the yacht struggled in a 60-mile gale and had to be escorted 40 miles by the Coast Guard cutter Yamacraw before it arrived here under its own power. He said constant pumping was necessary to keep the vessel afloat when several bad leaks developed.

The Adriel was en route from Miami to New York.

WAGES AND PROFITS

One of the prominent converts to the doctrine that high wages make high buying power, and high buying power makes business profits

is Edward A. Ullene, Boston

merchant. In a recent statement he says he could well afford to double the wages of his employees

if other business men would do likewise. "Employers make no greater error," he adds, "than to assume that wages come out of profits. The fact is, profits come out of wages." Henry Ford has sometimes expressed very much the same view, holding that his own wage-raises, by adding to the buying power of his employees and of all to whom their earnings go, enable Mr. Ford himself to make more money.

This principle may be sound if it is applied on a broad enough scale. If all wages and salaries were raised, there would be more dollars spent everywhere, and thus more profit for everybody—measured in dollars. But if prices went up as much as wages and salaries, the net result would be about the same as it was before. People would not be better living for their earnings. It would only help debtors to pay off their old debts, incurred when prices were low and dollars were dear.

whale. This is applied to the sperm whale for the first time. Whaling at land stations is to be subjected to a six months' closed season. Regulations of the methods of shooting whales is planned, to mitigate cruelty and prevent loss of whales fatally wounded.

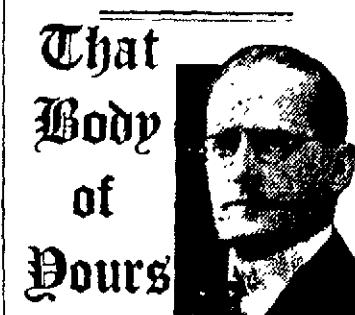

The countries which have joined in these provisions are South Africa, the United States, Argentina, Australia, Germany, the United Kingdom, the Irish Free State, New Zealand, Norway, Canada and Portugal. It is hoped that others will come in, particularly Japan, whose whaling operations are now expanding rapidly. Such a treaty is a small thing, but useful. It is an example of governments cooperating for mutual benefit, as they ought to do in many other fields.

DENTISTS' PROBLEM

One part of the program of the current convention of the American Dental Association deals with the same problem the doctors tackled when they had their annual gathering a few weeks ago. This is the matter of providing dental care for the 70 per cent of the nation's population whose teeth are now neglected.

At present everybody concerned is losing—the person whose health suffers and the doctor or dentist who lacks patients and adequate income. The problem is not simple. The professional man cannot afford to work for nothing. He does not want to surrender his independence and judgment to government control, as he fears he would have to do if medical work were subsidized.

What the ultimate solution will be cannot be said now. Some kind of cooperative insurance seems better than "state medicine." But it is a good sign to have the profession aware of the problem, admitting its existence publicly and seeking a sensible answer.

DENTIST AND PHYSICIAN

For years health writers, including myself, have been suggesting to all patients—medical patients and dental patients—if medical students and dental students took the first two or three sessions together, that is, received the same lectures. After the first two years dental students would necessarily have to give more time to their laboratory work and medical students more time to their particular laboratory work. When they graduated, both medical and dental students would be physicians with the dental student a specialist in dentistry, foods, and mouth hygiene, and the medical student a general practitioner or a surgeon.

Of course I realize that there would be difficulties and there are likely many difficulties that I do not realize, but I have only one thought or idea in mind and that is the patient. The physician recommends the removal of certain teeth or all the teeth because he sees elsewhere—tonsils, sinuses, gall bladder—and can find no other infection. Naturally he recommends the removal of the teeth. In the majority of cases the patient improves and patient is happy.

Unfortunately the patient does not always improve, the symptoms are still present, and to add to his discomfort he is wearing a plate—artificial teeth—which even if made and fitted perfectly cannot do the work or give the comfort of his own teeth.

Strange to say the dentist has an amazed gasp that escaped her at the extraordinary sight that met her eyes, but she stood rooted to the spot, gazing with hypnotic intensity at what she saw.

Her heart beat in uneven, suffocating jerks, and a blaze of color flooded in her cheeks.

Stretched on the cot, somewhat pale, but evidently all right, considering the animated way in which he was talking, Ted reclined, his head half turned from her toward a dark-haired girl who sat beside him, with her hand gently laid on his.

Kay couldn't hear a word of

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: Fire destroys Kay Brandon's Lazy Nine ranch house and barn. Josie Hastings, owner of the Flying Six, tries to buy her ranch and court Kay. She hates him and is determined to keep her ranch and rebuild. Ted Guy, a puncher, fights scrap Johnson, a cowboy who molested Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings finds them unconscious and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. Ted crawls to a shack where a girl named Marion, who is his daughter, is staying. Marion and Ted are found and Sheriff Farley hunts Ted. Kay goes alone to the shooting scene at the central divide.

Jealous Misery

TURNING back, Kay paced out the distance from the water to the spot where Scrap Johnson's body had been found. Then she searched the ground between with minute care.

Her eye suddenly caught a gleam in a small clump of grass. Pulling it aside, she picked up a steel nail head, of the type that is used to fasten gauntlets.

She knew that because so many people had walked over the spot, her find was of little value, but Kay slipped it into her pocket, and went on with her search.

'Sissy' Work About House Is Great To Build Initiative

'Household tasks offer an ideal opportunity for children to assume responsibility.'

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

AP Feature Service Writer

New York—Washing the dog and raking leaves aren't just odd jobs thought up to keep Tommy out of mischief. They're really responsible tasks which will develop his initiative, and turn him into a self-sufficient individual.

At least that's the way Dr. Ruth Andrus, head of New York State's Bureau of Child Development and Parent Education, looks at it.

Don't Ask Too Much

'Household tasks offer an ideal opportunity for children to assume responsibility,' she says. But she warns nervous parents, once Tommy has been given instructions, don't bicker him. He'll be disturbed, and won't be able to do the job well.

"Let him break a dish or two," says Dr. Andrus, who thinks the average mother is too emotional anyway. "Naturally he can't do the task as well as his mother can. . . . and told me she was going to run away from home because her mother made her dry the silver after every meal."

Tasks Must Be Varied

Dr. Andrus tells of a five-year-old who insisted on carrying a guest's suitcase out to her car. His mother let him try it, but halfway down the drive, he dumped his burden down, and said wistfully to his mother, "I guess you'll have to help me."

There shouldn't be any distinction in sex when allotting duties. Tommy can be as good a dishwasher as his sister Jane. And he won't need sissy overnight because he helps his mother around the kitchen.

The psychologist warns parents against keeping their children too long at one task. "The 11-year-old daughter of a friend of mine once came to me in tears," she says, "and told me she was going to run away from home because her mother made her dry the silver after every meal."

Affects Adults Life

The errand-running stage is soon outgrown, too. Children need to do the job entirely by themselves. Just bringing mother equipment doesn't help Tommy gain self-reliance.

Parents who won't allow their children to have any responsibility at all seriously endanger their adult life, Dr. Andrus believes.

An example she cites is the woman who as a child was continually told she was "too little to cook." She hates cooking now.

"And he has swallowtails, too," said Willy Nilly. "Oh, I notice some jewel-weed flowers over there. They are also called touch-me-nots."

"Then Christopher will want to touch that flower," cackled Top Notch.

The flowers were orange in color, spotted with brownish red, on rather long stalks.

popular with the children through the day, and also a haven for softball fans during the evening hours. These parks are Lough Park, a tract of land in the Albany avenue section of the city which is leased to the city by James F. Loughran, and Barnard Park, located on Greenhill avenue near the West Shore Railroad tracks. Both of these places are fully equipped with the latest type of playground equipment, and also each one boasts a fine baseball or football diamond.

Plan New Pool

Superintendent Conway stated that plans have been submitted to the WPA for the construction of a wading pool in Block Park, and if this project goes through, the children of that locality will have the opportunity of enjoying a good splash on a warm day, and the city will have five up-to-date wading pools.

The public park system of Kingston is one that local citizens can be justly proud of. Equipment of the latest design is installed in most of the parks, and the places are kept clean and orderly. During the summer months a system of supervised play is carried on under the direction of a play-supervisor and a staff of assistants. Through the medium of Kingston's extensive park system and the fine supervision of these parks, parents can now send their children to these parks to play and not be continually fearful for their safety. Judging the situation as a whole, the city of Kingston has made great strides in recent years in the development of its park facilities, and the results that are evidenced today more than justify the time and money spent for the improvement of this system.

The World Of Stamps

By James B. Fletcher

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

The Moss Feature Syndicate, Greensboro, N. C.

ZPONOV is the name of a town in Czechoslovakia, but in the history of the battle in which Czech regiments first distinguished themselves in the World war, the 20th anniversary of this battle, July 1, 2 and 3, 1917, is commemorated by Czechoslovakia with two striking stamps. The design shows three soldiers, one fallen, "Zp onov 1917-1937" is in the upper left corner. The 50th-anniversary commemoration is green, the 1-korora coin.

In 1917, the Czechs reluctantly permitted the Czechs in Russia to form their own army to fight with the Russians against Austria, their age-old enemy. The Czechs organized two regiments and part of a third under General Jan Srovy. The Russian were then concentrating their best troops under General Korniloff on the southeastern front, and the Czech "brigade" was placed near Zborov.

When the order to attack came, the Czechs moved forward without hesitation and quickly captured the first line of Austrian trenches. A Finnish division on their right did its share, but the honors belonged to the Czechs. They rushed on, taking the second and finally the third line of trenches. The Russians were altogether out of it.

Sweeping all before it, the Czechoslovakian brigade took 62 Austrian officers and 3,150 soldiers prisoners.

The battle of Zborov showed what the Czechs could do.

Sports In Rumania

A combination of national sports meeting and seventh anniversary of King Carol's return to the throne, motivates the new series of eight semi-postal pictorials from Bucharest.

Uncle Silas — How's your nephew doing in State College?

Uncle Ulram — Pretty good, I guess. He tells us that he is a senior.

Uncle Silas — Hub! He'll find out that them dago types won't do him any good after he gets out.

Clipped: "The best way not to hurt other people's feelings is to keep your own mouth closed."

John — What do you mean, dear, when you say I've been deceiving you for years?

Ellen — Well, for one thing, John, I've found out that you get a $2,500 allowance on your income tax return for being married, and you only give me a miserable $10 a week.

A bad habit that is not sufficiently emphasized, is that of sticking around listening to and absorbing loose, foolish talk. It makes a fool and often a rante, of whatever succumbs to the filthy habit.

Film Director (explaining) — In this scene, Miss Trimm, the young man rushes into the room, grabs her, binds her with rope from head to foot, and then smothers her with kisses.

Miss Trimm — Is the young man tall, fair and handsome?

Film Director — Yes. Why?

Miss Trimm — Then he won't need any rope.

Read it or Not:

Bananas grow upward on the stem; exactly opposite the position in which grocers hang them.

Restaurant Customer — Take this ham sandwich back and bring me another one. This thing isn't taste right.

Proprietor — If you will remove the cold wrapping it might taste more like a ham sandwich.

This interesting item was clipped from an Indiana paper: "James Huston is suffering from a broken rib and several bad bruises caused by a circumstance which occurred in his cow barn."

To which we meekly say: "Cheer up, Jim, we're all victims of circumstances sooner or later."

Two women had a heated argument. Later one of them confided to a friend:

Clara — You know I don't like Pansy. She's not fair.

Judy — No, but she's dying to be.

Mike — I haven't seen you for ten years. What have you been doing?

Jake — Ten years.

Jeffress — If I find I have to stay away more than one night I will send you a telegram.

Mrs. Jeffress — Never mind, I've read it already — I found it in your coat pocket.

There is always someone we can depend on if we can depend upon ourselves.

TO REORGANIZE!

Smart Detective Work Helps Case Against Suspect

A smart bit of detective work Tuesday on the part of Fred Stoudt, secretary to Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, strengthened the case of the Albany police against John Pope, 30-year-old negro whom they wanted for larceny.

Tuesday noon the Kingston police were ordered by teletype to apprehend and hold John Pope for larceny. The message gave no details, except that he might be riding on a bus from Albany to New York.

Patrolman Edward J. Leonard and Peter Camp were detailed by police radio to stop the Albany busses and search for Pope. They found him on the 3:15 bus, as it approached Kingston on Albany avenue.

Hailing the driver to stop, Patrolman Leonard asked, "Have you got a shine riding on here?"

Saw Pope in Bus.

Failing to understand, the chauffeur answered, "no." But Leonard's quick eye caught Pope sitting a few seats behind him in the front of the bus.

"Get out you," ordered the patrolman. Pope obeyed, carrying with him two large suit cases. He insisted they held personal belongings.

Not knowing what to search for on the vague order to pick up Pope, Patrolman Leonard brought him to police headquarters.

At the police station, the negro was searched thoroughly, personally, and his baggage too, but only clothing, unmistakably belonging to him was found.

One article, however, that cast suspicion on him was among some socks—a large blackjack.

Telephones Albany

Questioned by Sergeant Charles Phinney, Pope said he resided at 313 State street, Albany, and was an attorney. He denied knowledge of the larceny charge and asked to use the telephone for a call to Albany.

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood, surmising that important information might be revealed, let the negro call Albany. He phoned a physician to whose office he had been previous to starting for New York, and the talk was concerning a missing watch.

Patrolman Stoudt concluded that Pope might have concealed the watch in the patrol car on his ride to headquarters, and with Officers Leonard and Camp searched the auto. They found a watch and chain under the rear seat, presumably the Albany physician's.

Pope denied he knew anything about the watch, and was held for the Albany police. Detectives Samuel Morden and William Gressell took him back to Albany later in the afternoon.

sation. Some hinted they could not talk until the leadership fight was settled. Mr. Roosevelt declined comment at his press conference except to list the court bill among legislation which he termed desirable.

Garner Gets Spotlight

Garner, who returned only yesterday from a vacation in Texas, quickly became the center of the court negotiations.

Shortly before he went to the White House he went over the situation with the seven Democrats reported to be turning against the pending bill.

Those who talked with him were Senators Herring of Iowa, Johnson and Adams of Colorado, Bulow of South Dakota, Andrews of Florida, Overton of Louisiana, and Brown of Michigan. All had been non-committal but Herring, who was publicly for the bill.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) held a preliminary conference with the other seven and was reported to have taken the same position—that he would vote to recommit the bill unless the way could be cleared soon for other legislation.

One of the senators said they were eager to stop the strenuous floor fight which was interrupted last week by Senator Robinson's death.

Hints of Compromise

Friends of the bill conceded that if all eight senators voted to send it back to the judiciary committee, the proposal would carry.

There were hints from the White House earlier yesterday of a possible willingness to compromise. But no one was able to suggest a compromise—aside from a constitutional amendment—which would quell the opposition and permit a speedy disposition of the issue.

The President heretofore has rejected all suggestions of a constitutional amendment as a substitute for court legislation. He has contended it would take too long to win approval.

The bill now before the Senate—a modification of the President's original measure—would authorize addition of Supreme Court justices, at the rate of one a year, if incumbents over 75 did not retire.

Some senators have suggested that an agreement might be reached if present justices were exempted.

STURGEON JUMPS ON HIS LAP, SAYS FISHERMAN.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—Two fishermen today claimed a 12-pound sturgeon came up out of the depths of Lake Erie to snap at an outboard motor, missed his target and landed helpless in their boat.

William L. Kirst and Albert Wild, trolling for pike, said their copper line snarled in the motor's propeller. They started to tilt the engine, they said, when the sturgeon came swirling up.

The fish missed the shining propeller blades, Kirst said, sailed clear of the water and jumped down in his lap. Both men jumped on it as it thrashed in the boat and finally subdued it, they said. "That's all there is to it," said Kirst. "Here's your fish without a hook mark and now bring on your lie detector."

Life seems to be resuming—they're buying stocks again.

Kangaroos Replace Sentimental Polars

Atlanta.—"Uncle" Matt Leonhard, keeper of the zoo, says "polar bears are like love birds; they can't live without each other." So polar bear Jerry just "pined away" after his mate, Madge, died a short while ago.

Parks committee of city council, however, is a bit more practical and replaced the bears with a pair of kangaroos, feeling that they will lead a happier life than the polars during the southern summers.

First Half Champs Get Off on Good Start for City League Pennant

Big Joe Maher on Grunewald's mound pitches two-hit ball; Hoke Rask gives up eight to Bakers

With Big Joe Maher pitching two-hit ball, Grunewald's Home Leaders, first-half champions of the City League, had any easy time disposing of Rosendale at the Athletic Field, Tuesday evening. The score was 8 to 0. It was the first game of the second half and by winning the Home Leaders got off to a good start for winning both halves.

In the kaisomine brush war gave the Bakers their fourth shutout win in the league. Maher did not allow a hit until the fifth inning, but was in trouble before that due to misplays by his teammates. In the fourth, fifth and sixth frames he had to use everything he had to pull through. He was liberal with his walks at times, issuing four. He fanned but one batter.

Hoke Rask opposed Maher and gave him a good battle most of the time. His hardest inning was the fifth when he allowed four hits to be bunched and two runs to score. He was nickel for eight hits all told. The first run made off him was due to errors.

Joe Dulin continued his good hitting, getting two for three. Bill Hanley also got two for three, while Lou Auchmooddy poled the only extra base hit of the game, a double into the crowd in right field.

Two errors by George Schirick in the third inning paved the way for the Bakers' first run. After Maher fanned Minasian grounded to Schirick and he fumbled the ball. Minasian stole second and took third when Schirick threw Yonnett's throw. Dulin drove him home with a short fly to right field. Gadd fanned and Purvis grounded out to strand Dulin.

Successful singles by Minasian and Hanley put Rask in a tight squeeze in the fifth. Dulin attempted to sacrifice and laid a neat bunt on the first base line and beat it out to fill the sacks. Gadd popped to D. Rask for the first out. Then Purvis singled to center field and Minasian and Hanley registered. Francello and Hanley relieved Dzidzik in the fourth, rounded out and Van Deuseen went out to end the scoring.

The Villagers' best chance of scoring came in the fourth inning. Schirick reached first on an error by Francello to start. He stole second and advanced to third when Minasian kicked Steigerwald's ground out over the first out. Yonnett hit to Purvis who tossed to Flanagan to nlop Schirick at the plate. Regan forced Yonnett at second to end the frame.

Again in the fifth they threatened. Auchmooddy hit his double and H. Rask walked only to be stranded when Schirick flied out to Hanley.

It looked like they would break through when they loaded the bases with one down in the sixth, but a double play erased them. D. Rask was safe on Minasian's second error. Yonnett drew a pass and Regan got an infield hit. Maher then put on the screws by fanning Duffy and Flanagan finished the inning by doubling Regan off first base.

Rosendale was handicapped by the absence of McManus and H. Rask. They are expected to be in line against Hedricks Friday.

Purvis played his usual good game at shortstop... Minasian executed a double play unassisted.

Clude Wondersly thought the Home Leaders should get something for winning the first half so he presented them with a brand new ball last evening.

Sensational Game Expected In City League This Evening Between Berardis, Kyanize

Parker May Take Grant's Place on Davis Cup Squad

Wimbledon, Eng., July 21 (UPI)—

While the cheers rolled out over Wimbledon's storied courts for Don Budge, the man who had achieved the impossible, Bryan Grant, the atom from Atlanta, sat sadly in the shadows. It was the most crushing defeat of his career.

Budge had beaten Baron Gottfried von Cramm, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2, 6-6, in the inter-zone finals for the United States Davis Cup team and sent it into the challenge round against England with a fine chance of winning and returning the cup to America for the first time since 1927. It was a gallant, courageously fought effort for both Budge and von Cramm.

But Grant had lost to Henkel, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

For Bitsy it was the big chance.

In past years, when he had not been chosen for the team, the little man with the knotty legs had made vociferous complaint to the powers that be on the tennis Olympus. Chosen at last he went abroad with high hopes but dropped both his matches and put upon Budge and Gene Mako the full burden of staving off the German for a shot at the cup.

Besides Murphy, the Kyanizers have acquired Speed Scherer, first basemen, who will be ready to relieve Tony DeBrosky at the initial call, if called upon.

The Berardis finished a half game behind the Hedricks, second place team of the first half of the City League, and the Kyanize Club, fourth. It is the aim of the Painters to make a strong bid in the second half, with their strengthened team.

There is keen rivalry between the two clubs scheduled to battle tonight, and therefore a sensational diamond duel should be the outcome.

All the color of a major league game will surround the baseball program in the City League at the Athletic Field this evening, when the Berardi A. C. touts out to oppose the Kyanize Painters at 6:30 o'clock.

This evening's game is the second scheduled in the second half of the league, and the first meeting between the two clubs that made a strong fight in the opening half of the city schedule.

For the second part of the league, the Kyanize club has strengthened its roster, acquiring Eddie Murphy in a deal with Rosendale. He is expected to help the Painters a lot toward their pennant race for the second dash.

Murphy went big in the first half of the circuit, pitching Rosendale to victory over the Grunewalds, champions of the first round, and over the Hedricks, Brewers, 1936 title winners, whom he blanked 1-0 in nine innings.

"We'll start Murphy tonight," said Manager Jack Dawkins, "and hope to get off on a winning start in the second frame of the City League through his superb twirling."

With Murphy scheduled to pitch, a large gathering of fans is expected to turn out to see how the Painters will do behind him.

Charlie Bock, former Kingston High School star, and ace of the Berardi hurling staff, will oppose Murphy. George Zadany will catch. Gene Rider will be Murphy's battery mate.

Besides Murphy, the Kyanizers have acquired Speed Scherer, first basemen, who will be ready to relieve Tony DeBrosky at the initial call, if called upon.

The Berardis finished a half game behind the Hedricks, second place team of the first half of the City League, and the Kyanize Club, fourth. It is the aim of the Painters to make a strong bid in the second half, with their strengthened team.

There is keen rivalry between the two clubs scheduled to battle tonight, and therefore a sensational diamond duel should be the outcome.

With Budge unquestionably the world's top amateur as the result of his victory yesterday, America's strategy in the challenge round is simple. As long as the red-head from the west can keep firing America can win. With Gene Mako showing great improvement in the doubles victory over von Cramm and Henkel Sunday, the British team reduced to Bunny Austin, R. C. D. Tuckey and a brace of newcomers seems to have little in its favor.

Swimming Meet At Williams Lake Sunday, July 25

Next Sunday, July 25, the Williams Lake Swimming Club will conduct the first of a series of swimming meets which they will sponsor this summer in an attempt to build up an interest in competitive swimming in this section of the state. The feature event in the meet will be a three mile swim for the Senior Long Distance Championship of the Adirondack District of the A. A. U.

Any A. A. U. swimmer in the Adirondack District is eligible to swim. Entries have already been received from Schenectady, Albany, Troy and Lake George. The race will be conducted over a measured one-quarter mile triangular course. Each contestant will be required to go around the course 12 times.

During the race the supporting program will be conducted, which will include a fancy diving contest open to any A. A. U. member; a 100 yard free style swim for men; and a 50 yard free style swim for women. In addition to these events there will be several closed events which promise to lend some comedy and local interests to the program.

Game Comment

Ulster Park and Hurley toiled along for six innings with the score tied, 5-5, as Snyder and Herring were having equal success on the pitching mound, but in the "lucky seventh" things began to happen. The down-river lads suddenly came to life and roared a few of Snyder's pitches for hits, and the final result saw Ulster Park on top with a 9-5 win.

Harold "Chicken" Smith buried the Releemers to their first win in the second half of the league scheduled last night as he subdued the Albany avenger swatters, 8-5. Harry Grey worked on the mound for the losers. Stan Colvin hit a home run for the Baptists while Les Dennis cracked a four-bagger for the winners.

Romans File Past Marconi's Bier, State Rites Today

Rome, July 21 (AP)—Thousands of Romans of high and low estate filed past the bier of Guglielmo Marconi today in hushed farewell to the genius that gave wireless telegraphy to the world.

They came in the early hours of the day and stood in solemn lines before the Italian Royal Academy, waiting for the chance to pay a final tribute to the inventor before his body was taken home to Bologna for burial.

The body lay in state, in the blue uniform of an academician, under the Raphael Fresco of the mythical Galatea in the Galatea chamber, for all to see who would get in line—aristocrat and peasant.

The famous scientist died at the age of 63 at his residence here early yesterday of heart paralysis. The world joined his homeland in mourning. In Italy and other countries, on the radio he helped make possible, the list of popular music was still to make way for tributes to his memory.

The highest Italian dignitaries, including emissaries of King Vittorio Emanuele, turned out today to escort Marconi's funeral cortège or salute it in its passage from the academy to the Church of St. Mary of the Angels.

Regular army troops formed an honor guard along the path of the funeral procession.

About 50,000 persons filed past Marconi's body on its candlelight bier up to midnight last night. Other thousands continued the sad procession today.

Members of the Inventor's family and high dignitaries of both the pontifical and Royal Italian Corps earlier went to the academy where a brief funeral Mass was recited.

The grieving widow, Marchesa Marconi, and other members of the family went early to obtain a last private view of the body.

Last night Premier Mussolini and all members of his cabinet now in Rome visited the scientist's bier.

United States Ambassador William Phillips sent a wreath in the name of the American government, and hundreds of other tributes were received from all parts of the world.

Texas "Con" Flees Arkansas Posse; Pal Shot in Fight

Monticello, Ark., July 21 (AP)—An escaped Texas convict fled through dense southeast Arkansas woodland today from a posse which killed one of his companions and captured another in a swift gun battle.

The slain convict was W. H. Bybee, 26. Sergt. Neil Shannon of the state police was wounded seriously in a shotgun exchange with Bybee yesterday before Sergt. Buck Mooney, Shannon's aide, mowed down Bybee with a machine gun fusillade and captured another escaped convict, James Rice. Rice was unhurt.

The third fugitive, who ran during the gunfight, was described by state police as Harry Roberts, 34. A posse of 30 officers, led by two sheriffs, trailed him with bloodhounds.

The trio, suspected of robbing the Bank of Welner in northeast Arkansas two weeks ago, played hide-and-seek with officers for days. When they appeared at the little community of Selma yesterday to purchase gasoline and groceries, a waiting posse picked up their trail within an hour.

Shannon, leaping from his car and fired his shotgun at Bybee. The convict apparently fired a sawed-off shotgun at the trooper in the same instant. Shannon fell, his chest ripped by slugs. Mooney's machine gun swung into action. The streak of bullets tore through Bybee's head, smashed pistol out of Rice's hand.

Rice surrendered instantly. Roberts had made good his getaway.

Shannon, taken to a Monticello hospital, was given a good chance to survive. Bybee, Rice and Roberts escaped the Texas prison with 16 other convicts June 15. All were serving long terms for robbery.

St. Joseph's Plan Auriesville Trip

On Sunday, August 1, a large number of members of St. Joseph's parish and friends will journey to Auriesville, for a picnic and pilgrimage to visit the shrine center where the first missionary martyrs of North America laid down their lives for the faith.

On this sacred spot at Auriesville, about 40 miles west of Albany, the Jesuit priest, Father Isaac Jogues, and the two Jesuit lay-brothers, John Lalonde and Rene Goupil labored among the Iroquois Indians spreading the Christian faith. It will be recalled that the same Father Jogues discovered Lake George and gave it the name of Lake of the Blessed Sacrament back in the 17th century.

The youngest of these three missionaries, Rene Goupil, on August 5, 1643, was the first to meet a martyr's death when he was tomahawked by the Indians while instructing a young Indian boy in making the sign of the cross. Father Jogues after some torturing in which his fingers were bitten off by the savages was released from captivity and his martyrdom was postponed until about a year later.

Pilgrims to the shrine take part in the open way of the cross and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, then follows the veneration of the relics of the martyrs in the large inclosed amphitheatre which seats 10,000 people. From this point the pilgrims wend their way to where the body of one of these martyrs of North America is interred. Here a sermon by one of the Jesuit fathers.

A grand outing is assured to not only members of St. Joseph's parish but also their friends.

Buses will leave the school hall, Wall and Pearl streets, at 10:45 o'clock.

Orpheum: "Sea Devils" and "Paradise Express". A rowdy tale of the service is to be enjoyed in the opening double feature at the Orpheum with Victor MacLaglen who stars.

"Paradise Express" is the other offering with Grant Withers.

Tomorrow: Broadway: Same. Kingston: Same. Orpheum: Same.
